

Our mountains.

The mountains create a jagged chain.

There are 4 important mountains:

Mount Sernio and Creta di Mezzodì in the South-East: Mount Sernio is the highest mountain, it's 2187 m. high;

Mount Zermula in the North;

and
Mount Tersadia
in the West.

These mountains are part of the Eastern Alps and are predominantly limestone and dolomite, so you can find lots of fossils, especially on Mount Tersadia and Zermula

On these mountains there are many paths where you can go for long walks through the woods or Alpine pastures. It only takes 3 or 4 hours to walk to Austria!
